

Opening Remarks Immigration is a solution, not a problem	10
Bloomberg View How to stop Obamacare fraud • Narendra Modi must learn to compromise	12
Global Economics
The political resurrection of George Osborne	14
Hints that wages are finally rising	16
China's more than 150,000 state-owned companies may get a tuneup	16
Can Jeb Bush deliver 4 percent growth?	17
In the Middle East, big plans for building walls	18
Companies/Industries
The mainland's homegrown film industry is gaining on Hollywood	21
A food supplier to fancy restaurants adds duck dogs to its menu	22
Bratz dolls are reborn, but this time they've got selfie sticks	24
Delta will soon let its best passengers hitch rides on private jets	24
Briefs: GM goes long on emerging markets; luxury retailers say Hong Kong rents are too damn high	25
Politics/Policy
The USPS handles 40 percent of Amazon deliveries—and wants more	26
When it comes to data, Rand Paul stands alone	28
Commercial fishermen still have safety problems	29
Congress looks at the Strategic Petroleum Reserve and sees an ATM	30
A Bill: California clamps down on drone operators who get in the way of wildfire fighters	31
Technology
The rollout of Windows 10 signals a radically altered Microsoft	32
Salesforce.com goes big-game hunting	33
TV networks scramble to figure out streaming video	34
Invisible mobile ads are slowing down smartphones	36
Innovation: Richard Branson takes flight with satellites in tow	37
Markets/Finance
Will driverless cars sideswipe the insurance industry?	39
Investigators hope arrests will bring them closer to solving the JPMorgan hack	40
Europe's biotech startups bypass buyouts to go public	41
Art classes for the young and soon-to-be-rich	42
Bid/Ask: Teva spends $40.5 billion for Allergan's generic drug unit	43
Features
IUD Revolution How the Buffett family is changing birth control in America	46
Hacking the Strawberry Driscoll's is after a fruit that can survive the California drought	52
Merchant of Truth The African startup standing up to counterfeit medicine makers	58
Etc.
Iggy Azalea ruled in 2014. Now she's the latest victim of the Song of Summer Curse	63
Beauty: Sales of oil-based products—for hair, face, even lips—are soaring. Here are the slickest	66
The Critic: Why are Amex and other companies producing documentaries?	67
Design: Wastebaskets that are anything but trashy	68
Travel: Airbnb tries to break into business travel	70
What I Wear to Work: For Charles Archer, founder of the Thrive Network, suits are like armor	71
How Did I Get Here? Lane Bryant CEO Linda Heasley competed in a "dork sport" and perfected the pub crawl	72

Cover Trail

How the cover gets made

1 "Cover's on the IUD gaining popularity as a form of contraception, thanks in part to a Buffett foundation."

"As in Warren Buffett?"

"Yes."

"Is there anything Warren Buffett can't do? This means we can finally put him on the cover. It's a business magazine rite of passage. Legitimacy at last."

2 "Well, he doesn't actually run the foundation, so maybe we should try an IUD on the cover."

3 "Looks strange at that size."

4 "This does not help with the strangeness problem."

5 "OK, let's go back to Warren, but emphasize the idea that he's a feminist icon."

