

Opening Remarks Breaking Islamic State's bank • New walls won't make us safer 10

Bloomberg View Rubio's right about welders • The TPP model for U.S.-EU trade talks 14

Global Economics

A dam break leaves a Brazilian town in ruins and two big mining companies in hot water 16

Sunny skies in India mean dreary days for the gold market 18

The end of a corporate tax break wilts Puerto Rico's economy 18

Companies/Industries

Lions Gate tries to picture life after Katniss 21

The prices of hospital medicines defy gravity 22

For millions of car owners, the Takata air bag recall is going nowhere fast 23

Why cattle are taking a fast plane to China 24

Briefs: Grab a slice of pepperoni at Urban Outfitters; Comcast says no to YES 25

Politics/Policy

Subsidy reforms helped some farmers more than others this year. The big loser: Taxpayers 27

As landlines grow scarce, SurveyMonkey and other online pollsters swing into Gallup's political turf 30

A prominent Obama donor, with ties to a potential Clinton running mate, faces trial on fraud charges 30

Technology

Mobile game makers struggle to build reliable hit machines 33

It's win or go home for fantasy sports 34

Peering into Samsung's future 34

The FDA has some questions for the makers of genetic test kits 35

Gogo's satellite-based airplane Wi-Fi is go for launch 36

Innovation: Vegetarian fish food 37

Markets/Finance

Airbnb offers a comfy place for concierge startups 39

Silicon Valley darlings like Dropbox get an unwelcome surprise from Fidelity 40

Investigations and arrests spread anxiety through China's financial industry 41

No credit history? Your smartphone can be your loan application 42

Bid/Ask: Constellation buys a beermaker; Canadian Pacific tries to engineer a deal for Norfolk Southern 43

Features

Net Revenue How streaming video games made Twitch a media juggernaut 44

Underground Art A Tehran collection (Picasso! Warhol! Renoir!) may soon resurface 50

Team Player Billionaire Stan Kroenke is trying to score L.A.'s first NFL team in decades 56

Etc.

PhunkeeDuck is riding celebrities and social media to the head of the hoverboard pack 63

Beauty: Six multipurpose styling tools to get your morning going faster 66

Food: A good chef is hard to find—and hang on to 67

Advertising: Pepsi takes product placement to a whole new level in Fox's Empire 68

The Critic: Racing Extinction uses Hollywood-style production and storytelling to transmit its urgent message 70

What I Wear to Work: Forest City Ratner CEO MaryAnne Gilmartin shows her feminine side 71

How Did I Get Here? Big East Commissioner Val Ackerman once played professional basketball—in France 72

1
"The cover story is on how ISIS is so well-funded."

"How is it so well-funded?"

"Mainly through oil, but the U.S. government has underestimated exactly how much profit that generates. It also creates revenue from more unexpected sources, like agriculture and antiques."

"This seems like a cover that doesn't need much art to make its point."

