

Fast Forward
TiVo tries to skip past its losses p36

Opening Remarks

6

Raj Rajaratnam's conviction is the biggest blow against insider trading in a generation. Unfortunately, what the Galleon case shows is that the problem is worse than ever

Global Economics

9

The Kids Are Moving Out

As employment picks up, more young people are setting up house. That's helping the economy

Brazil's new taste for credit	p10
Power shortages in China	p11
Tom Keene's EconoChat	p11
Crisis-free Malta	p12
Central banker code	p12
Seven days ahead	p14
Charlie Rose/Turkey's PM	p16

Companies & Industries

19

Profit Express

Burlington Northern, the high-profile Buffett buyout, is paying off big-time as it steals trucking business

Giving Puma the Gucci treatment	p20
The backlash against Laser Spine's pricey surgeries	p21
Wine: Wooing Millennials	p22
DNA-focused cancer drugs	p23
Briefs	p24

Politics & Policy

27

A Private Moment

Washington is belatedly weighing how to protect privacy—and grilling Apple and Google

Secret cash dominates state Supreme Court races	p28
In Illinois, it's Democrats who are battling the unions	p29
Steve Ross, the inside-the-Beltway aide to the stars	p32

On the hunt The Somaliland coast guard on an antipirate speedboat p64

Features

50

Everybody Needs a Sheryl Sandberg

The COO helped take Facebook from phenom to real business. Can she also keep the precocious 7-year-old from growing too big? p50

Not Guilty

No executive has gone to jail for his role in the financial crisis, because risk-taking and stupidity aren't criminal p60

Sea Dog Millionaires

Piracy in the Gulf of Aden is more than a growth business. It's the center of a booming industry—and not only Somali pirates are profiting p64

Etc.

73

Golden Girls Gone Wild

As the notion of older women dating younger men goes mainstream, the cougar economy is purring

Perks Chesapeake Energy's fitness powerhouse	p76
Food Erstwhile celebrity chefs such as Graham Kerr and Curtis Aikens are attempting comebacks to get a slice of the megabusiness they pioneered	p78
Next Life From financial analysts to BaubleBar's ice princesses	p80
Spinoffs Hollywood's post-trilogy disorder	p81
The Stack AIG's Hank Greenberg may have taken his antirisk fixation to extremes, but without it, the insurer crumbled, says author Roddy Boyd	p82
Hard Choices Is co-founder Chris de Wolfe considering buying back Myspace?	p84

Rail Rider
Buffett's well-timed bet p19

Technology

35

The Sony Effect

The company played rough with hackers. Then its PlayStation Network got gamed

TiVo's campaign to win in living rooms—and courtrooms	p36
VTech: When Junior's too young for an iPad	p37
Silver Lake's Skype gold	p38
The Mark Hurd factor	p38
Innovator: Digitizing 911	p40

Markets & Finance

43

Big Oil Bargains

Global demand is up. Profits are on a tear. Oil stocks look cheap despite industry bashing by pols

Japan's banks step up lending to speed reconstruction	p44
Muni-bond fund withdrawals push up yields, luring buyers	p45
Bank of America's high hopes for a housing recovery	p47
Bid & Ask	p48