

Opening Remarks Alibaba's IPO and the beginning of the end of U.S. e-commerce dominance 8

Bloomberg View The best way to stop botched executions • Safeguarding America's water 12

Global Economics

A military draft brings the war home for thousands of Ukrainians 15

Argentina's businesses turn to lessons learned after the country's last default in 2001 16

What's a parking spot really worth? 17

China goes after former security chief Zhou Yongkang and his wide network of associates 18

Nokia's woes weigh on Finland's high-tech workers 18

Companies/Industries

Why the Tesla-Toyota partnership fizzled 20

Faster and cheaper is the new Six Sigma at GE 22

Brazilian airline Azul stays out of the dogfight for the São Paulo-to-Rio route, the country's busiest 24

Briefs: Gannett gets out of the newspaper business; Coach trashes its excess bags 25

Politics/Policy

Saving Hollywood's digital-effects artists from government-subsidized foreign competitors 26

A computer to let the SEC peer into dark pools 28

Flawed technology and divisive politics have left thousands in Tennessee without health insurance 29

It's the haves vs. the have-nots in California's drought 30

Technology

Unwelcome in the U.S., China's Huawei finds favor in the north of North America 33

Video game makers begin to realize that women play, too 34

Credit Karma wants you to have good credit 35

Humin teaches address books new tricks 36

Innovation: Shoes that tell you where to go 37

Markets/Finance

After a binge of borrowing, Portugal's Espírito Santo banking dynasty falters 39

With people dying to get into big-city cemeteries, a shortage of space is sending prices higher 40

AIG's new boss includes risk in the profit equation 41

In the bond market and at the racetrack, the betting is on Ireland's recovery 42

Bid/Ask: Telefónica goes after Vivendi's Brazilian ISP; Walgreen takes over a Swiss retailer but keeps its HQ in the U.S. 43

Features

Arrogance Is Good Are Silicon Valley's tech elite getting a bum rap? 46

Argentina's Nemesis Buenos Aires blames Paul Singer for its default. It will get no apologies 54

Porsche for Her The Macan crossover is built to win over new buyers (read: women) 58

WILL Power Reinventing Miley Cyrus was only the beginning for hip-hop's Mike Will 64

Wasted How Libya's shot at real democracy vanished—along with billions of dollars 70

Etc.

Put the kids to bed, pour some wine—then get to work! How the new night shift ruins your life 87

Grooming: The best dry shampoo. You do know about dry shampoo, right? 90

Video Games: The depressing—and depressingly savvy—Kim Kardashian app 91

Travel: Six hotel pools that take relaxation to new heights 92

The Critic: A book that tracks the interconnected history of pop 94

What I Wear to Work: Eric Villency designs a lot of his own clothes—but the bracelet's by his fiancée 95

How Did I Get Here? Ami Dar put every penny he had into Idealist.org. His mother was not amused 96

Cover Trail

How the cover gets made

1 "The cover story explores the truth behind the stereotype of young, arrogant, self-important men in startup tech culture but also talks to some people doing some amazing things."

"Stereotypes you say. Would be fun to create the ultimate tech guy you love to hate."

2 "We can coerce our graphics editor Toph to model."

3 "And add a headline."

