

Cheers, Mate
An Aussie pour that coddles
the palate and purse p83

Opening Remarks

8

To save Obamacare, the Administration must convince conservative judges that its mandate for most people to buy health insurance won't put the country on the road to autocracy

Global Economics

13

Suddenly sanguine

While extending the Bush tax cuts was divisive, it's given the U.S. economy a needed jolt of optimism

India: A spike in rates of oral cancer	p14
A cautionary bankruptcy tale from Vallejo, Calif.	p16
Canadians spend like crazy Americans	p17
Tom Keene's EconoChat	p17
Seven days ahead	p18

Companies & Industries

20

Betting on new drugs

As rivals diversify or make acquisitions, AstraZeneca looks to its own labs for the next blockbuster

Cleveland's plan to be a hub for health-care gear	p21
Marketing to China's new metrosexuals	p22
Women in India's workforce	p23
Corona brewer Modelo wants to stay independent	p24
Briefs	p25

Politics & Policy

26

A welcome invasion

Chinese companies are investing in U.S. factories and getting the red carpet treatment

The 1942 case that could make or break health reform	p28
Cities and states face a flood of property tax appeals	p29
Checks for GOP winners	p30
Power follows population	p31

Having a Blast-Off Branson at a party for Virgin America in Dallas p64

Features

48

Charged for Battle

The first serious contenders for a mass-scale electric car are here. They've changed GM and Nissan. Can they change the world? p48

Moscow Survivor

Stephen Jennings' investment bank Renaissance Capital has been toughened by Russia's chaotic markets. Africa will be another kind of test p58

Up in the Air

Virgin America, the fun carrier, has shown promise, but Branson may need to work some magic. Foreign ownership laws could tie his hands p64

Etc.

77

Tao Las Vegas' Secret to Living Large

The huge pan-Asian restaurant is hugely profitable, attracting both celebrities and slot-playing grannies

Hands On A guide to the year's best, weirdest, and most useful mobile apps	p80
Wealth For Roosevelt Multi-Cap Fund's Jason Sheer, change (in a company) is good	p82
One True Thing A deceptively cheap, all-occasion wine perfect for a host, a client, or an impromptu office toast	p83
Fashion Lauren Conrad wants to use her reality-star exposure to launch a Martha Stewart-style empire	p84
The Stack How to succeed in the business of hip-hop without really making music	p86
Hard Choices Wolfgang Puck on defying the foodie world with gourmet pizza at Spago, and how Johnny Carson inspired his frozen food empire	p88

Frank forecast
The GOP won't block funding for regs p29

Technology

32

Russia friends Facebook

The site is thriving in a country where social networking is critical to everything—even survival

Net neutrality rules	p34
What the new iPhone will mean for big wireless carriers	34
Charlie Rose/Tim Wu	p35
RIM's PlayBook prospects	p36
Hany Farid has a way to tell if digital photos are faked	p37

Markets & Finance

39

A Disney town's woes

Foreclosures, a suicide, and a murder have brought a dose of the real world to Celebration, Fla.

Why Trump likes golf	p40
A Hollywood banker eyes a big role on Broadway	p41
The rally in stocks may still have legs in the new year	p42
Predictions 2011	p43
Bid&Ask: The week's deals	p44