

Doggie wars
Designer hybrids take on the purebred elite p85

Opening Remarks

4

The moral and economic case in favor of hiring illegal immigrants

Bloomberg View A derivative watchdog's flawed quest; a tax-and-spend refresher course p6

Global Economics

9

Escaping the debt beast
American consumers are making remarkable progress in restoring their credit

Who's exposed to China p10
A firebrand jolts South Africa p11
Egypt's capitalist Brothers p12
Korea cuts school hours p14
Tom Keene's EconoChat p14
The week ahead p16

Companies & Industries

19

Burning rubber
Europe's Continental Tire woos the garage guy to make inroads in the U.S. tire market

BeiGene wants to become the Genentech of China p20
Camps go beyond Kumbaya p21
SodaStream's bubbly ambitions for the DIY drink market p22
Briefs p24

Politics & Policy

26

Default position
GOP statements signal the party will agree to raise the debt ceiling—but expect more bickering

Swiping at debit-card fees p27
"No Child" left behind? p29
Indiana's bumpy toll road p30
Unclaimed property is good for state coffers p32
Rose/Senator Tom Coburn p34

Technology

37

Zynga's risky high rollers
As the hot game company prepares to go public, some question its reliance on a few big spenders

TV anywhere gizmo Slingbox hits cable resistance p39
Turntable.fm spins buzz with its music-streaming p40
Innovator: From white-shoe firm to online startup counsel p41

Markets & Finance

43

The housing horror show
Key stats point to years of stagnation as foreclosures continue, prices fall, and buyers wait

Weighing Greece's threat to money funds p44
TiVo is a takeover target p45
A big payout for Citi's Pandit p46
States tighten, munis rally p46
Bid & Ask: The week's deals p47

Energy

49

A big bet on Egypt's oil
U.S.-based Apache pumps one-quarter of the nation's oil. Will it prosper in the post-Mubarak era?

Wanted: U.S. nuke workers p50
Indonesia taps volcanoes p51
Energy exploration outlook p52
Airlines cleared for biofuels p54
Utilities pitch smart meters to manage home power use p56

White House arrival Warren with the President in September 2010 p58

Features

58

She's With the Government—and Here to Help

Detractors aside, Elizabeth Warren has won the battle to change the way America borrows p58

Austerity Calling: Portraits of the New Greece

A cross section of Greek society, photographed on a single weekend in July, captures the impact of the debt crisis on families and their livelihoods p66

Puget Sound Gold

Thanks to demand in Asia and legal victories in the U.S., American Indian tribes in the Pacific Northwest dominate a rich trade in giant clams called geoducks (pronounced goeey-ducks) p74

Etc.

85

The Pooch Civil War

After a century of dominance, the canine Establishment is battling an haute mutt insurgency

Alternate Reality: Imagine iPenney—with an Apple veteran (and J.C. Penney CEO-in-waiting) designing every detail of your shopping experience p88
Next Life Lawyer-turned-Realtor-turned-frozen yogurt creator Chloe Epstein p90
Multiple Choice Test your knowledge of the players—Strauss-Kahn, Blagojevich, Weiner, Schwarzenegger—in this season's political scandals p92
Stack An angry Bob Lutz on battling the bean counters for the soul of Detroit p94
Hard Choices Hip-hop's Russell Simmons on building the prepaid RushCard p96