

Float Your Boat
A cruise for every niche p87

Opening Remarks

10

The environment vs. employment debate rages in Washington. Should the EPA get more aggressive about enforcing the Clean Air Act?

Bloomberg View The Fed's struggle to keep its lending secret; gold glitters, but regionally p12

Global Economics

15

Economic Stare-Down
U.S. companies won't hire and consumers won't spend: Call it "coordination failure"

Looking for a shale-oil boom in Israel's Napa Valley p17
Delayed justice for miners in South Africa p18
Tom Keene's EconoChat p20
The surging Swiss franc p20
The week ahead p21

Companies & Industries

25

Drugmakers
Germany's new regulations require drugmakers to justify prices for new therapies

Aston Martin's luxe mini p26
Woody and Buzz return, shortly p27
GM's bid to go greenish p28
China's inflation shows in higher U.S. toy prices p29
Briefs p30

Politics & Policy

33

Medicare's Middle Path
Health exchanges, where consumers shop for policies, might bridge bipartisan divisions

Jon Huntsman's message p34
Immigration bills stall p36
The Pentagon's war on rust p37
Charlie Rose p38

All Business
Huntsman on the stump p34

Technology

41

Amazon: Hello, Tax Man
Lawmakers are thinking of ending the online sales tax reprieve. How will that affect the e-tail giant?

Providing heavenly service for cloud customers p43
The Flip Video creator's next act: Grilled cheese p44
Innovator: How Imad Mahawili reaps the windpower p46

Markets & Finance

49

Coke Looks for the Fizz
Its stock is up this year but remains stuck well below the high reached 13 years ago

LBO firms move into steadier, less profitable businesses p50
The IRS grills taxpayers on offshore accounts p52
Finding exotic jobs for unfulfilled bankers p53
Bid & Ask: The week's deals p54

Smarter phones? Nokia's Stephen Elop and Microsoft's Steve Ballmer

Features

56

Nokia's Epic Fail

Stephen Elop's attempt to bring the world's largest cell-phone maker back from the brink p56

Egypt's Old Media Revolution

The country's largest newspaper helped bring down Mubarak. Now it faces a new challenge p62

The Scrappiest Carmaker in America

Zero layoffs, zero pay cuts, zero waste. Inside Subaru's innovative plant p68

A Virtual Education

Backed by Mike Milken, K12 has kids clicking for classes at home. Is that a good thing? p76

Etc.

83

Inside the Yelp Elite Squad

The site's online reviewers are the Cosa Nostra of Nosh, flexing muscle that can build up restaurants or demolish them. Where does this collection of tastemakers come from, and who chooses them?

One True Thing The perfect summer raincoat p86
Spinoffs Themed cruises. Come aboard, we're expecting you p87
Behavior A field guide to happy hour p88
The Stack In Biopunk Marcus Wohlsen investigates biotech do-it-yourselfers p90
Hard Choices Wikipedia founder Jimmy Wales on maintaining control of his baby p92