

Koalas? Please
Reasons to head below Down
Under to Tasmania p83

Opening Remarks

10

India's boosters may have downplayed its flaws. Today's critics risk overstating them

Bloomberg View Getting U.S. transportation moving; housing debt: forgive, forget, profit p12

Global Economics

15

Japan's lost year

Hope that the challenge of rebuilding after March 11 would energize the nation's leaders is fading

| | |
|-----------------------------|-----|
| France's fraying safety net | p16 |
| East Coast gas squeeze | p17 |
| China's rich lawmakers | p18 |
| Venezuela trades on gossip | p19 |
| Tom Keene's EconoChat | p20 |
| Seven days ahead | p21 |

Companies & Industries

23

A Pixar star goes live

Disney makes a big bet on John Carter, writer/director Andrew Stanton's first live-action feature

| | |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Savings at the jet junkyard | p24 |
| Steve Wynn's expensive breakup | p26 |
| Super-luxe SUVs | p26 |
| The condoms of champions | p27 |
| Briefs | p28 |

Politics & Policy

31

Open season on the TSA

Travelers have hated it since its creation. Now even Congress is losing its patience with the agency

| | |
|--|-----|
| Obama fights with his pen | p33 |
| The GOP's prison reversal | p34 |
| Can Netflix let everyone know what you're watching? | p36 |
| After 20 Republican debates, a not-so-fond look back | p38 |

Boss's orders
An election year appeal to the base p33

Technology

41

Zynga cuts loose

With a new game-playing hub online, the company will reduce its reliance on Facebook and Amazon

| | |
|----------------------------|-----|
| Sniffing out cancer | p42 |
| Big business, small claims | p44 |
| Dude, let's code! | p44 |
| Bequeathing digital assets | p45 |
| Innovative teaching | p46 |
| Charlie Rose/Jason Killar | p48 |

Markets & Finance

51

Big dreams deferred

Bankers skip ski trips—and clip coupons—as they deal with smaller bonuses and a diminished future

| | |
|--|-----|
| A foreign-cash assault on Miami's condos | p52 |
| When crime fighting pays | p54 |
| Deutsche Bank's tweeter | p55 |
| Company pension problems | p55 |
| Bid & Ask: The week's deals | p56 |

Truth and consequences How self-reporting burned hedge fund D.B. Zwirn

Features

62

The Company That Wouldn't Die

Chaos and fail whales couldn't stop it. Now Twitter, which for years treated earnings as an annoyance, is about to cash in p62

The Man Who Fell to Earth

At 33, Dan Zwirn had a thriving hedge fund and $700 million. At 40, he has a horror story about the cost of trying to do the right thing p68

The German Website Copy Machine

Brothers Oliver, Marc, and Alexander Samwer have made millions by cloning American Internet businesses p74

Etc.

83

Museum at the End of the World

An Australian gambler and modern art collector aims to make Tasmania the next cultural epicenter

| | |
|--|-----|
| Next Life After his fiberoptic business failed, Brad Gruno shed stress—and weight—on a raw-food diet. The success of Brad's Raw Chips has him feeling even better | p86 |
| Business Class Battling self-loathing among the bold and the beautiful on Delta's New York to Milan flight during Men's Fashion Week | p87 |
| Office Envy A London double-decker solves a branding agency's space problem | p88 |
| The Stack Power, Inc. argues that companies, not governments, now rule | p90 |
| Hard Choices Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas on fighting racial inequality in the 1960s and why he opposes affirmative action today | p92 |