

How the cover gets made

Opening Remarks The Supreme Court's leftward lurch that isn't	10
Bloomberg View Reviving Greek banks • Is the end in sight for Colombia's endless civil war?	12
Global Economics
Mongolian herders pay the price for sandstorms in Beijing	14
Quelle horreur! France ponders an end to the 35-hour workweek	16
Market woes and fears of rising rates lead the wealthy to pay down debt	16
Moscow hosts a conference to fight "American vampires"	18
Diplomas for sale from Cairo to Kiev	19
Gender inequality and GDP	20
Companies/Industries
When it comes to social media marketing, the Burger King has it his way	23
China's merchants discover the showroom	24
Shell gives up on the Arctic, but environmentalists shouldn't take credit	25
The NFL Players Association tries for an Emmy	26
Briefs: Ralph Lauren hangs up his Polo mallet; Keurig Kold to pour some Koca-Kola	28
Politics/Policy
Small-town America falls out of love with the prison-industrial complex	30
Desperate for a jackpot, Illinois stiffes its lottery winners	31
Why the U.S. doesn't get a refund for things like janky combat ships and that #*&%$! healthcare.gov site	32
Hidden Hand: Frank Kendall, under secretary of defense for acquisition	33
Charlie Rose talks to Lisa Monaco, the president's homeland security adviser	34
Technology
You will look at those Facebook ads. You. Will.	37
Google searches for buyers for its futuristic Nexus phones	38
Silicon Valley already ate San Francisco. Now it's coming for Oakland	39
The deadline for chip-equipped credit cards was Oct. 1. Be patient, America	40
Will InVivo's "scaffold" provide a long-sought cure for injured spines?	40
Markets/Finance
If you think the oil slump's bad, metals are getting massacred	43
Meet the hedge fund that makes high-interest loans to casino-building tribes	44
With China's markets in turmoil, its pensioners succumb to get-rich-quick schemes	45
Bid/Ask: Japan Tobacco buys the rights to Natural American Spirit; Comcast acquires Universal Studios Japan	46
The New Money Issue
Glass Half Full Despite debts and uncertainty, twentysomethings have a sunny outlook	50
Less Than Zero To be young and very, very rich in Beijing	52
Occupy University Outrage at Corinthian Colleges fuels a push for student debt forgiveness	60
Here's Your Hipster Crib Two West Coast landlords mine the millennial mania for fixer-uppers	64
Bolivian Building Boom The psychedelic mansions of the newly prosperous Aymara people	66
Van Gogh? Yawn Going to art school with a 38-year-old financier-collector	72
Silver Spoon to Silver Spoon How the wealthy teach their kids not to blow the family treasure	74
The Macchiato Matrix A global survey of tomorrow's leaders—today's baristas	78
Seriously Old Money How one fortune survived Napoleon, two world wars, and craft breweries	80

1 "The cover is our New Money special issue."

"'New Money' as in people who just got rich?"

"There is some of that, but also young people in China who are living off their inheritance, a West Coast real estate company that's making a killing selling the millennial lifestyle, and wealthy Bolivians who are splurging on over-the-top architecture."

"That's a lot to put on a cover."

"What do you see when you hear 'New Money'?"

"I see the guy standing in line for a $6 artisanal drip coffee, who carefully grooms himself to look like a backup keyboardist for the Black Keys, wearing a $1,100 Neil Barrett blazer that he pairs with brand-spanking-new Converse that he makes sure not to get a speck of dirt on as he steps into his black Uber car on the way to the vanity company he started with daddy's money."

"I sense much hate in you."

