

Opening Remarks Xi Jinping is reforming China, but don't expect democracy to bloom 8

Bloomberg View Trade deals shouldn't be secrets • Time to update the ban on plastic firearms 10

Global Economics

Now is the winter of Larry Summers's discontent 13

Japan adjusts its defense posture as China flexes its muscles 14

Canada's tar sands boom is creating new lakes in Alberta—full of toxic wastewater 15

Calculating the Internet's impact on GDP: Could  $1 + 0 = 2$ ? 16

Correlations: Forget frankincense and myrrh. They'd rather have a gift card 17

Companies/Industries

Mutant veggies make a comeback 19

Jumia, Africa's Amazon.com, delivers Web purchases by motorcycle and accepts cash 20

BMW leads the automotive industry into carbon-fiber bodies 21

A merchandiser pounces on a holiday that won't return for 70,000 years: Thanksgivukkah 22

Briefs: Boeing grabs the brass ring in Dubai 23

Politics/Policy

Why business owners aren't calling for Toronto Mayor Rob Ford's head 25

Marco Rubio has come up with a new tactic for deep-sixing Obamacare 27

AARP's campaign to scare Washington away from entitlement cuts 28

In the humanitarian effort following Typhoon Haiyan, relief agencies will soon be butting heads 29

Technology

Ploom's e-cigarettes and vaporizers work with actual tobacco, among other substances 30

The just-out Xbox One is a test case for Microsoft's consumer-ecosystem strategy 31

Software-based videoconferencing is forcing Cisco to rethink its high-end product 32

Charlie Rose talks to Nathan Myhrvold 33

Verizon redesigns its stores to encourage customers to linger—and spend 34

Innovation: A fold-flat bicycle helmet 35

Markets/Finance

Behind emerging markets' rebound from the financial crisis lies a ticking debt bomb 37

Investors in bonds to fund a religious theme park in Kentucky need a lot of faith 38

Since Facebook's IPO overreach, companies going public are leaving money on the table 39

The resurgence in real estate takes a breather 40

Bid/Ask: An Abu Dhabi energy conglomerate pays $2.2 billion for a Texas exploration company 42

Features

One Nation Underwater The Pacific will soon overwhelm Kiribati. Where will its people go? 48

The Counterterrorist Blackwater founder Erik Prince defends his deadly legacy 64

Etc.

The 2013 Holiday Gift Guide 71

Spread cheer in 45 different ways—at relationship-appropriate investment levels

How Did I Get Here? MacArthur Foundation President Robert Gallucci on the joy of giving genius grants 80

Cover Trail

How the cover gets made

1 "We need to see the islands from the air."

2 "It's one of these, then."

3 "Top one."

4 "Let's make the type disappear."

