

IN THE STUDIO WITH WOODY ALLEN PAGE 38

'The Russian Foreign Ministry has accused American Ambassador McFaul of spreading "blatant falsehoods."'

ANNA NEMTSOVA PAGE 6

FOR THE INTREPID TRAVELER PAGE 50

BEFORE THE TONY PAGE 56

2 LETTERS & CONTRIBUTORS

4 PERISCOPE

Generation "Special." By Tina Brown

NEWSBEAST

5 NATIONAL NOTEBOOK

Sleepless in Salt Lake City. By Michelle Cottle

6 PERSON OF INTEREST

Michael McFaul is a diplomat with a big mouth—and a big mission. By Anna Nemtsova

7 INTERNATIONAL

The dingo did it. By Tunku Varadarajan

8 TECHNOLOGY

By Trevor Butterworth

ECONOMY By Fiona Bravo

WORKPLACE By Rebecca Dana

13 DEBATE

Why Obama should leave the Supreme Court alone. By Jeff Shesol

16 NEWS GALLERY

Jamie Dimon stands tall; Muslims flee Burma; Nadal triumphs.

22 POLITICS

So dies the American dream. By Paul Begala

25 COMPASS

Why Syria isn't America's problem.

By Niall Ferguson

26 MY TURN

"You're not special." After my commencement speech that stunned America.

By David McCullough Jr.

FEATURES

28 Has Christie Passed His Sell-By Date?

He showed the GOP how to win in 2012. Now he's bogged down in New Jersey. Christie on the call that may never come. By Peter J. Boyer

34 Europe's "White Widows"

The continent's economic crisis has spawned the ultimate despair. Coping with a suicide spiral. By Barbie Latza Nadeau

38 Woody Allen's Black Magic

The legendary filmmaker returns to his old obsessions—sexual avarice and megalomaniacal control. By Sam Tanenhaus

44 The Scapegoat

FBI agent John Connolly went to jail for enabling Whitey Bulger. In an exclusive interview, he says the extent of the feds' cover-up may never be known. By T.J. English

OMNIVORE

50 TRAVEL The 2012 bucket list.

53 BOOKS Money-mad London.

55 SPIRITS In vermouth veritas.

56 MY FAVORITE MISTAKE

Tony winner Nina Arianda on her mortifying wardrobe malfunction.

ON THE COVER

PHOTOGRAPH BY MEL EVANS-AP