

WILL BOMBING GAZA REALLY HELP NETANYAHU? PAGE 42

'Boo spent nearly four years in Mumbai with people who live off the trash tossed out by tourists.'

LUCAS WITTMANN PAGE 8

LOSING COMMAND PAGE 34

HITCHCOCK'S FILMS STILL BEWITCH PAGE 48

4 LETTERS & CONTRIBUTORS

NEWSBEAST

6 NATIONAL NOTEBOOK

R.I.P., Twinkles. By Daniel Gross

8 PERSON OF INTEREST

Katherine Boo descended into the Mumbai slums to climb to literary heights. By Lucas Wittmann

9 WORLD ON A PAGE

François Reagan; Turkey's God squad.

By Tunku Varadarajan

10 DISASTER

By Josh Dzieza

RELIGION

By David Sessions

HEALTH

By Kent Sepkowitz

14 NEWS GALLERY

Miscarriage of justice; princeling kingdom.

21 CONGRESS

Showdown at the fiscal cliff. By David Frum

22 POLITICS

Denialists, Whiners, and Wackjobs. By Paul Begala

24 SPIRITUALITY

The science of heaven. By Dr. Eben Alexander

FEATURES

28 Everyday Armageddon

Disaster far greater than Sandy looms—unless we move fast to fix a badly broken system. By David Cay Johnston

34 The Fall of a General

David Petraeus subdued Iraq, steered the course for exit in Afghanistan, and is one of the most decorated generals of his generation. So why was he no match for his biographer? By Daniel Klaidman and Gail Sheehy

42 Israel's Fatal Game

Bombing Hamas won't stop the violence. Why Washington and Jerusalem desperately need a new strategy. By Peter Beinart

48 The Psycho Genius of Hollywood

Director Alfred Hitchcock gulped martinis, treated actors like cattle, and lusted after his leading ladies. Will a new film starring Anthony Hopkins reveal the man behind the movies? By Sam Tanenhaus

OMNIVORE

55 FILM Getting candid with Jennifer Lawrence, comedy's new queen.

58 FASHION Dolce & Gabbana, exposed.

60 BOOKS Joseph Gordon-Levitt's tiny tales.

61 WANT Agyness Deyn strips down her wardrobe.

63 FOOD The peculiar appeal of bone marrow.

64 MY FAVORITE MISTAKE

Ang Lee on his greatest balancing act.

ON THE COVER

UNION BEACH, N.J.: NOV. 12, 2012
PHIL MCAULIFFE-POLARIS