

Newsweek Table of Contents

August 15, 2011

Obama in Jeopardy
Page 9

Columns

2 Connecting the Dots

Gordon Brown

A global New Deal.

ECONOMY IN CRISIS

6 Jennifer M. Granholm
and Daniel G. Mulhern
Workers get stiffed again.

9 Michael Tomasky

The untransformational
president.

12 Niall Ferguson

America proves China right.

26 Global Kids

Casey Schwartz

Why it's smart to be bilingual.

28 My Turn

Jane Harman

Escape from the asylum.

64 My Favorite Mistake

Tim Gunn

The fashion guru on his lost loves.

14 News Gallery

Wall Street takes a bath;
Egypt gets its revenge.

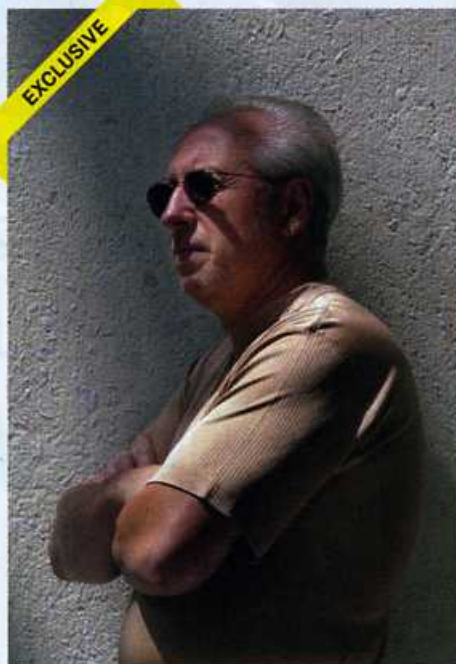

A boost for kids' brains Page 26

21 NewsBeast

Europe's leaders cavort
as Rome burns;
Alan Simpson's D.C. diatribe.

EXCLUSIVE

The man who was Detective to the Stars Page 36

Features

32 'Something About Her Tells Me to Follow Her'

Why Michele Bachmann is riding
high going into Iowa.

By Lois Romano

36 The Hollywood Phone Hacker
Breaks His Silence

Long before the Murdoch scandal, Anthony Pellicano was the private eye stars feared (and used) most.

By Christine Pelisek

42 Under Siege in Somalia

Heroic obstetrician and humanitarian
Dr. Hawa Abdi on her free clinic's terrifying brush with Islamist fanatics.

48 Painter in the Flesh

Simon Schama on

Lucian Freud's confrontational art;
Ivana Lowell on his dark side.

54 Gloria Steinem Still Wants More

America's leading feminist talks about being happily single and feminism's unfinished business.

By Nancy Hass

58 Omnivore

Hollywood's new action
heroes: nerds; the evolution of campaign fashion.

BOOKS: What if a Muslim designed the 9/11 memorial?

The 30 Minutes or Less scene-stealer gives
slackers hope for love
Page 58

THE DAILY BEAST

READ LETTERS TO THE EDITOR AT OUR WEB ANIMAL

ON THE COVER: Photograph of Michele Bachmann
by Chris Buck
for NEWSWEEK.