

HOW GLOBAL WARMING WILL CHANGE THE WAY WE EAT PAGE 30

'Since Nov. 6, the Beltway terrain has only gotten bumpier for Martin's Tea Party Patriots.'

MICHELLE COTTLE PAGE 6

PUT A RING ON IT PAGE 55

WOMEN OF THE REVOLUTION ARE SUFFERING PAGE 36

4 LETTERS & CONTRIBUTORS

NEWSBEAST

5 NATIONAL NOTEBOOK

A swarm of angry shrinks. By Kent Sepkowitz

6 PERSON OF INTEREST

The grassroots right, spoiling for a fight.

By Michelle Cottle

7 WORLD ON A PAGE

'Don't speak' in China; muzzled ministers

in Britain. By Tunku Varadarajan

8 POLITICS

By David Sessions

SMALL BUSINESS

By Daniel Gross

SEX

By Lizzie Crocker

12 GLOBE

How to save Syria? Our experts weigh in.

14 NEWS GALLERY

Bull's-eye of the storm; holiday lights.

20 ECONOMY

The big tax smackdown. By David Frum

21 POLITICS

'Reform' taxes? 'Fix' Medicare? Yeah, right.

By Paul Begala

22 REPORTER AT LARGE

Why Obama will ignore Israel. By Peter Beinart

FEATURES

24 The Myths of Jesus

A recent papyrus that referenced Jesus's wife caused an uproar. It may be a hoax, but what do we really know about the historical truth of the early life of Jesus?

Even the Gospels disagree.

By Bart D. Ehrman

30 The Pasta Crisis

Temperatures are rising. Rainfalls are shifting.

Droughts are intensifying. What will we eat

when wheat won't grow? By Mark Hertsgaard

36 In the Land of Invisible Women

The Arab Spring gave Yemen's women a public voice and a visible face. But the revolution has faded without changing anything for millions who are married too young and shut

away in mud huts for the rest of their lives.

By Janine di Giovanni

42 The Art World's Spending Spree

The rich keep spending millions and driving up prices. But what happens when the bubble

bursts? By Blake Gopnik

OMNIVORE

48 FILM

The genre-bending Django

Unchained.

50 TELEVISION

Fred Armisen sounds

off on Portlandia.

52 BOOKS

Newsweek's favorite books

of 2012.

55 WANT

Picks from the creator of LeCatch.com.

56 MY FAVORITE MISTAKE

Märk Duplass on ripping off Rocky.

ON THE COVER

ILLUSTRATION BY TIMOTHY GOODMAN